

From DUBLIN

1. From Dublin Airport take the M50 southbound (this is Dublin's ring road) Follow signs for Limerick, take the N7 road to Limerick.
2. The drive to Limerick takes three and a half hours depending on traffic.
3. When you reach Limerick follow the signs for N20/N21 to Cork & Tralee. Follow the N21 to Newcastle West. (You will drive through Adare)
4. As you enter Newcastle West you will pass a Tesco store on the left then see a sign to Drumcollogher to your left. It is quite a narrow road.
5. Cross a narrow bridge to the roundabout then second exit (R522) drive straight up past the Texaco gas filling station on the R522 follow this road and you will pass through a village called Feoghanagh then pass a minor road to the left.
6. Take the second turn to the right after this (L7028)
7. Drive to the end of the road and turn right again then you will come to the castle entrance after 300 yards. (it is the 3rd. entrance on the right and has a large Stone Gateway with a plaque commemorating Daibdi O Bruadair on the gate wall.)
8. If you miss a turn and end up in Drumcollogher do not worry! Just turn right & right again in the square and take the road to Broadford. You will come to the castle entrance after two miles.

From SHANNON Airport

1. Take the Limerick Road and when you get there keep following the signs to Tralee N21 and Cork N20.
2. You will have to negotiate a series of roundabouts, but just keep following the Tralee N21 signs and continue from [Point 3] in the above instructions when you reach Adare.
